SCHOOL PROFILE

Located in Boca Raton, Florida, Saint Andrew's School is a nationally recognized college preparatory boarding school. The school has the International Baccalaureate diploma as well as many Advanced Placement and honors courses. Robotic and Entrepreneurial courses are also available for students interested in STEM or business.

FACILITIES

Saint Andrew's School facilities include modern classrooms, an Olympic sized pool, athletic fields, and a student common area. In 2017, the school opened The Dr. Albert Cohen Family Center for Entrepreneurial Studies which features a maker space, television production suite, and 183-seat auditorium.

SPORTS AND ARTS

There are over 18 individual and team sports. Many teams have won conference, and state, championships within the past decades. The school has also produced several professional tennis and soccer players.

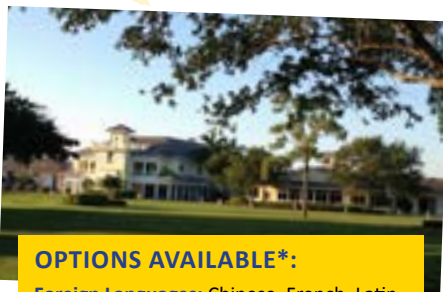

There are many fine art, visual art, and performing art courses and extracurricular activities for students to join. From beginner to advance levels, students can also receive private music and dance lessons.

COMMUNITY INFORMATION

Dormitories are located on campus and supervised by faculty who also live on campus. The school has many activities during the week including Resident Life Olympics, cookouts, movies, dances, and excursion trips to the beach and the Florida Keys.
