SCHOOL PROFILE

The St. Mary's Ryken High School Scholars Program features curriculum from the nationally recognized "Project Lead the Way". The program includes STEM tracks in engineering, computer science, and biomedical. Also part of the Scholars Program, students can seek accelerated concentrations in biomedical, global and international studies, humanities, and performing and visual arts.

FACILITIES

The 87-acre campus includes an athletic stadium with professional grade turf and track, as well as a brand new health and wellness building. St. Mary's also launched a 1:1 iPad Program.

SPORTS AND ARTS

St. Mary's Ryken offers 26 varsity programs and 17 different sports. Over 70% of students participate in at least one of the school's athletic programs. They are a member of the Washington Catholic Athletic Conference, considered one of the most competitive conferences in the country.

The arts program at St. Mary's offers 25 courses ranging from ceramics and painting to jazz band and technical theater. Each year, the school produces two showcases, one drama and one musical.

COMMUNITY INFORMATION

Leonardtwn is a historic town in southeast Maryland, founded in 1660. A coastal town, it is located immediately adjacent to the Patuxent River Naval Air Station, the home to the US Naval Test Pilot School, and Naval Air Systems Command. International students can enjoy nautical scenery and activities in a quaint, colonial town.
